

Strike's Extension To Include 12,000 Signalmen Averted

For Second Time, Intervention of Labor Board Members Prevents Further Tie-Up

Optimism Felt

Strong Hope of Early Settlement of Shopmen's Strike; Jewell
Reiterates Willingness

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, July 6.—A threatened extension of the strike of railway shopmen to include 12,000 signalmen was prevented today by members of the United States Railroad Labor board when D. W. Jewell, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, which has been taking a strike vote, promised to maintain the status quo pending further conference.

It was the second time that intervention of board members has averted an extension of the walk-out, a threatened strike of maintenance of way men having been prevented Tuesday through the efforts of Chairman Ben W. Hooper and W. L. McMenamin, labor member of the board.

Meanwhile, railway circles expressed strong hope of a quick settlement of the shopmen's strike. B. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen, today reiterated former statements that the shopmen were willing to consider a settlement proposition submitted by any authoritative body.

The situation is improving so far as the strike is concerned, Mr. Jewell said, asserting that "what few men that did remain at work last Saturday and Monday joined the walk-out Tuesday."

Mr. Jewell said he had a telegram from E. J. Valentine of Cincinnati, head of the International Moulders' union, authorizing a walk-out of 2,500 moulders employed on railroads.

Mr. Jewell did not reply today to the letter of Chairman Hooper of Labor board, which was considered conciliatory in some quarters, but said he expected to reply after studying it.

Mr. Hooper in his letter advised the shopmen to cooperate with the Labor board.

The sixth day of the shopmen's strike was marked by little violence except a few sporadic outbursts in widely-scattered sections.

At Albuquerque, New Mexico, where two men were beaten, one last night and one this morning, Mayor Walton appeared before the railway shop strikers today and urged them to conduct the strike peacefully. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of one shopman. The Santa Fe shops here are working full force and officials said 100 men had been turned away because no more helpers were needed.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway water pumping station at Madison, near Perry, Iowa, was broken into last night and put out of commission and ransacked, according to railroad officials here.

Situation in New York Area.

New York, July 6.—At the end of the sixth day of the shop crafts strike, railroad workers entering New York reported shops and roundhouses were working with from 35 to 60 per cent normal forces while union leaders continued to claim new gains in the ranks of the strikers. Rail executives united in a statement that all men engaged to fill strikers' places from this time forward will be considered permanent employees.

Three roads fixed a period of grace, after which strikers will not be rehired. The Pennsylvania announced its men would retain their pension and seniority rights if they returned by Monday night. The Central railroad of New Jersey set the "dead line" at noon Sunday and the Lehigh Valley at midnight tomorrow.

Other roads maintained previously allowed policies, asserting returned strikers would get only the "rights" of new employees.

John J. Dowd, chairman of the New York district strike committee, announced on returning from a tour of shops that statistics as to the extent of the strike were not available because the total changed so constantly.

The rail officials declined to make known conditions in their shops, asserting that to do so would be to invite pickets to the point where men are returning in greatest numbers.

An all day brass band, allied to have been employed by the shop officials, helped them make this decision.

This band, led by union pickets, appeared this morning at the gates of a shop which, according to newspaper reports, had been little affected by the strike. The band began to play at 8 a. m., gathering around it a considerable number of would-be workers. It continued to play until it was stopped by continued to play, gradually drawing from the shop other union and non-union workers, and by noon work was disrupted.

All passenger trains and freight ran on schedule time in the port of New York area.

THREE STRIKEBREAKERS WOUNDED ON WEST SHORE

Ravena, July 6.—Extra railroad guards, state troopers and special police were patrolling the property of the West Shore railroad here today following the shooting early this morning of three strikebreakers as they were returning to their boarding place from the roundhouse.

The three men, John McCloskey, George Phillips and John McMahon, were shot from ambush at a time when a train was exploding torpedoes placed on the tracks by strikers. The sound of the torpedoes completely drowned out the shots and the wounded men were forced to crawl several hundred yards for help. None of them was seriously wounded.

Railroad men declared today that they did not believe the shooting was done by strikers, attributing it to sympathizers or a boyish prank. No trouble was experienced today but all precautions were taken to protect strikebreakers.

Slater, Mo., July 6.—The Chicago & Alton railroad shops here will remain idle until protection is furnished by county or state authorities. J. L. Marquette, division superintendent, who was in the shops yesterday when union men took strikebreakers from their work, announced today. He said he did not consider it safe to send outside men here under present conditions.

Mr. Marquette said the non-union men expelled yesterday were kicked and beaten, and one man knocked down with a missile. Several of the imported workmen were taken to a garage across the street and later groups of strikers took them away in automobiles.

The charge that there was violence was denied by union officials.

Springfield, Ill., July 6.—Following reports from Decatur that an outbreak threatens as the result of the Wabash shopmen's strike, Adjutant General Carlos E. Black ordered two troops of cavalry and five companies of infantry to assemble there at their armories prepared to move at a moment's notice.

NEW ENGLAND MAINTENANCE MEN WANT WAGE INCREASE

Boston, July 6.—Members of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees employed on the New York, New Haven & Hartford, Boston & Albany and Boston & Maine roads voted tonight to send an ultimatum to the general officers of the organization in Detroit, demanding an increase in wages by August. The alternative would be a strike.

The vote was taken at a mass meeting following the reading of a report that similar action was being taken by employees of all railroads in the country affected by a wage cut ordered by the Railroad Labor board.

With no interruption in passenger or freight traffic, the sixth day of the shopmen's strike found officials of the New England roads claiming satisfactory headway in their plans to cope with the walk-out. Reports showed that new men were being engaged to fill the places made vacant by the striking employees and in scattered districts officials maintained employees were returning to their former positions.

Union strike leaders declared, however, that they were satisfied with the progress of the strike and that if men returned to work the number was few and mostly confined to workers near the pension age.

WOULD INTERDICT EX-PRIEST.

Montreal, July 6.—Formal request to interdict Delorme Delorme, former priest, found insane and unfit for trial on a charge of murdering his half-brother, knout, was made today by Adelard Tetreault, a brother-in-law. Under the Canadian law, the request must be made so that the defendant will not be able to exercise any of his civil rights.

At the same time, a family council, under the law, was asked. This will be held in the presence of the judge of the superior court, who will officially decide whether the family can have Delorme interdicted.

SIX KILLED NEAR OPELLEN.

Merlin, July 6.—Six persons were killed in fighting between civilians and French troops at Peiskretscham, near Opehlen, Upper Silesia, Monday. The French were marching through the town when a shot was fired at the column. This caused the troops to halt and open fire.

The firing continued for three hours, the house of the manufacturer being completely destroyed. The troops then resumed their march.

THE REAL OFFICIALS DECLINED to make known conditions in their shops, asserting that to do so would be to invite pickets to the point where men are returning in greatest numbers.

An all day brass band, allied to have been employed by the shop officials, helped them make this decision.

NEW STEPS IN WARD'S BEHALF

District Attorney Required to Show Cause Why Indictment Should Not Be Dismissed

WARD 'NOT NORMAL'

Testimony of His Brother Before
Grand Jury Revealed; Four
New Witnesses Called

White Plains, July 6.—Justice Morschauser of the supreme court today signed an order requiring District Attorney Weeks to show cause why the indictment against Walter S. Ward, charged with first degree murder for the slaying of Clarence Peters, should not be dismissed. The order is made returnable before Justice Seeger in Newburgh next Saturday morning.

It was intimated at the district attorney's office that when the case is brought before Justice Seeger an adjournment until July 11 would be asked.

Justice Morschauser signed the order in New York city this morning.

District Attorney Weeks showed today he was anxious to locate Mrs. N. Willard Curtis, Ward's mother-in-law, who was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury but did not come. He called four new witnesses before Justice Morschauser at the continuation of the hearing on charges that George S. Ward, father of the defendant, was conspiring to defeat the ends of justice. They were Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph E. Waldner and Mrs. Geneva Stophagen of Brooklyn and Mrs. Charles Schaeffer of Queens, said to be close friends of Mrs. Curtis.

Ward was not normal before the killing, according to the testimony of his brother, Ralph D. Ward, before the grand jury, made public today. The minutes of the grand jury were turned over to Ward's lawyers by court order recently over the protest of District Attorney Weeks.

When asked by the jury if his brother was in good health, Ralph Ward replied, according to the testimony: "No, I don't think he was; at least he wasn't normal."

Mrs. Ward, wife of the accused, whose testimony also was made public, threw light on a newspaper story written by Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., to the effect that Ward, after being lodged in jail, had visited his home one night before being released on bail. In denying the story, she told the jury that the young millionaire reporter had tried to interview her on a sympathetic plan.

She said Vanderbilt sent in his card, asking if he could see her because he was in "great sympathy with me." She said Vanderbilt was very insistent upon seeing her, but she positively declined to see him.

Before the grand jury was discharged it handed up a presentment denying Vanderbilt's story.

Buffalo, July 6.—The International Railroad company today served notice on its striking employees that all who did not return on Monday would lose their seniority rights. The statement of H. G. Tulley, president of the company, indicated that an attempt will be made on Monday to resume operation of the street cars.

He said experienced men would be brought here from other cities to take the places of the striking men.

Mayor Frank N. Schwaib, who has been trying to settle the strike, said today that he had arranged to have S. W. Mahon, national president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Railway Employees, come to Buffalo tomorrow. He appealed to Thomas C. Mitten of Philadelphia, who controls the International, to come here for a conference with Mr. Mahon and himself in an effort to end the strike.

BOOTLEGGERS MAKE LIFE MISERABLE IN FAIRPORT

Rochester, July 6.—Bootleggers are making life miserable for Chief of Police Tom Heveron, of Fairport, a village near here. The hoard traffickers of that place, the chief claims, angered by his punitive expeditions against them, stormed the jail last night and after smashing the windows and the locks from the doors, turned loose the inmates on the countryside, some of whom escaped.

Today police here arrested Patrick Murray, 30, and the story of the affair leaked out when Heveron arrived to claim his man, after the latter admitted he was wanted in Fairport. The chief says he will sleep in the daytime now and guard the jail with a sawed-off shotgun.

A GREAT RECORD-SMASHER

New York, July 6.—For the third time within a week, Miss Sybil Bauer of the Illinois Athletic club today smashed world's records marks when she defeated Miss Dorothy Donahue, of the Women's Swimming association of New York, in a 440-yard swim at the Manhattan Beach bath. The time was six minutes, 38.3-5 seconds, 11.2-5 seconds lower than the previous world's record established by her in 1921 in the Illinois Athletic club meet.

WU PEI-FU SUGGESTED AS CHINESE PRESIDENT

Peking, July 6.—A movement has been started to elect General Wu Pei-fu president of China. General Wu, who is the outstanding military figure of the north, declares he would not accept the office. Advocates of the plan declare that China needs a strong man at the helm and that General Wu is the man.

President Li Yuan-Hung announced today that he has received assurances from the majority of Cantonese members of the old Republican parliament that they had withdrawn their support from Sun Yat Sen and had decided to assist the Peking government.

TROTTERING FEATURE WON BY N. Y. HORSE

Nedda Tots One of Greatest Heats
Ever Witnessed; Wins by
2:05 3-4 Mark

(By the Associated Press.)

North Randall, O., July 6.—Trotting one of the greatest heats ever witnessed at the North Randall track, Nedda, owned by the Hillandale Farm, Mamaroneck, N. Y., and driven by H. Fleming, won the trotting sweepstakes for 2:05 trotters, the feature of the Grand Circuit racing card here today. Several close finishes marked the day's racing.

Getting away to a bad start in the first heat, Nedda ran out of it and gradually overtook her field one of the fastest in training and trotted the distance in 2:05 3/4, three seconds faster than the time for the heat to win.

The official time for the heat, 2:05 3/4, is taken from the first horse to start and the first to finish, while Nedda's time is that in which she negotiated the mile, after being lengths behind at the start.

With Nedda ruled out and E. Colorado withdrawn, Great Britain had no trouble annexing the third heat in 2:04 3/4. The time for the first two heats was 2:05 and 2:04 3/4.

The racing sweepstakes for three-year trotters was won by Alma Worth owned by H. F. Grayson of Washington, Pa., and driven by Lon McDonald of Indianapolis, in straight heats.

Four heats were necessary to decide the second division of the 2:21 trot, which was captured by Bobbin. The first division will be decided tomorrow.

PILGRIMAGE TO BATTLEFIELDS

Party Which Leaves August 5 Is Open to All Members of Legion

New York, July 6.—A pilgrimage to the battlefields on which they fought four years ago has been arranged for several hundred former service men by the American Legion. The tour is open to members of the Legion and its auxiliaries, which comprise the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the men who served in the World War.

The party will sail for France on the President Pierce August 5th; will land at Cherbourg, and go directly to Paris, where it will be officially welcomed by the French government. During the stay in Paris trips will be taken to the French battlefields and other points of interest.

According to the itinerary of the Legion the party will reach Brussels August 20. From Brussels it will go to Ostend and tour the battlefields of Flanders.

From Belgium the Legionnaires will go to London, where they will be the guests of the London post of the American Legion and the British Legion. The party will return on the steamship Metagama, arriving at Montreal September 16.

Arrangements for the tour are in charge of John J. Wicker, Jr., of Richmond, Va., who as tour director has headquarters at the office of the American Legion Weekly, New York.

PEDAGOGIC MOVIES MAY BE PRODUCED

Already Great Demand for Them,
Hays Tells National Education Association

Boston, July 6.—The cooperation of the motion picture producers with the National Education association in finding a way to make pedagogic pictures "which are scientifically, psychologically and pedagogically sound" was offered by Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, in an address tonight before the convention of the educators' organization.

"There is already a great demand for pedagogic pictures," Mr. Hays said. "I propose that we jointly find ways and means of supplying it. Let a committee be appointed of this association made up of the very best talent within your ranks; let them meet with the great producers of the country and find way to use our facilities. We ask you to aid us and let us aid you in the study of this whole problem."

Mr. Hays assured the delegates that the motion picture industry accepted the challenge "in the great demand of the educators that the full instructional value of motion pictures shall be developed and used."

FREE STATE'S CALL TO ARMS

Long Lines of Men Stand Waiting to Join Provisional Government's Forces

DUBLIN AGAIN QUIET

Twenty Buildings Destroyed by Fire
After Surrender of Insurgent Republicans

(By the Associated Press.)

Dublin, July 6.—There was a great response today to the provisional government's call to arms, and at the Wellington, Portobello and Beggars' Bush barracks, as well as at the city hall, long lines stood waiting to join. The men are being segregated into their own areas.

Besides members of the volunteers offering themselves, there were large numbers of ordinary citizens for recruitment in the volunteer forces as preliminary to transfer to the actual service list.

During the day, great crowds visited the scenes of the fighting, but a cordon was drawn to prevent approach to the buildings. From the ruins from time to time an explosion is heard, this is caused by British ammunition abandoned by the insurgents.

The "Call to Arms."

The text of the Free state's "call to arms" follows:

"The valor and patriotism of our national army has broken the conspiracy to override the will of the nation and subject the people to a despotism based on brigandage and ruthlessness, regardless of the people's inalienable rights to life, liberty and security."

"Spontaneous and eager offers of army service made by citizens last week were declined by the government because it was confident of the ability of the army singlehanded to meet and defeat any attack made upon the territory of open warfare and it desired to teach the volunteers' army that needed lesson. The army proved itself equal to the great task and is justly honored as the defender of the people."

"Events have shown, however, that while the present active strength of the army has been sufficient to deal adequately with the recent situation, there is a possibility of continued sporadic action which makes an increase in the army establishment very necessary."

"... people of Ireland, you have regained for the first time in centuries those powers of government from which a nation may develop and cultivate in peace, order and prosperity its own national genius."

"A wicked, sanguinary attempt has been made to thwart your will and thrust you back again into the house of bondage with your capacity for self-government discredited before the whole world. Your courage and devotion to your national army has preserved you."

Twenty Buildings Destroyed.

Twenty buildings in O'Connell street, Dublin's main thoroughfare, were destroyed by fire after the surrender of the insurgent Republicans, who had turned the buildings into a fortress in their resistance to the provisional Free State government.

The fires were not completely under control today. Only smoldering ruins remain where the insurgents made their last stand. It is believed the damage will reach several hundred thousands of pounds. Four snipers were shot dead during the night.

Robert C. Barton, former minister of economy in the Dail Eireann cabinet, was arrested at the home of Eirke Childers.

The account of the final surrender of the insurgents, issued by the National army headquarters said:

"At 7:30 p. m. a party of men led by Art O'Connor, left the Granville hotel under a white flag and surrendered to Lieutenant Craney."

"One of the party said they were given orders to surrender by Cuthbert Brugha. Mr. Brugha brandishing a revolver, then dashed out. When he came under the fire of the troops he was wounded and was removed to a hospital."

The "Irish Independent" today says it is informed on good authority that Eamon de Valera left the Sackville street stronghold Tuesday night.

COAL STRIKE CONFERENCE MAKING LITTLE PROGRESS

Washington, July 6.—A prolonged session between anthracite coal operators and union representatives called to Washington by President Harding to consider methods of getting work resumed broke up tonight without definite results being accomplished, but with an agreement on the part of participants to meet again at 2 p. m. tomorrow. No statements were given out in behalf of either operators or union officials.

DEMOCRATIC CONFAB IN SYRACUSE TODAY

Virtually Every County Outside
Gotham Will Be Represented at "Stock Taking"

Syracuse, July 6.—Democratic leaders from practically every county north of the Bronx arrived in Syracuse tonight to attend an unofficial conference at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon called by upstate leaders for the purpose of taking stock of sentiment in various communities regarding possible nominees for the governorship.

The visitors include members of the state committee, county chairmen and district leaders. William H. Kelley, Onondaga county leader, and a group of upstaters made known their intention to urge endorsement of Alfred E. Smith of New York, former governor.

The conference will be held behind closed doors and the spokesmen for each county will tell in a brief statement the sentiment in their community. The conference leaders, it is understood, intend to bar attack on any particular candidate, the meeting being designed merely to give voice to upstate sentiment.

TAXI MEN AROUSED OVER NEW RULING

Make Test Case of State Law Requiring Them to File
Bonds of $2,500

New York, July 6.—The constitutionality of the state law, effective July 1, requiring taxicab operators to file bonds of $2,500 each as provision against damage suits, will be tested in the equity term of the state supreme court Tuesday. An order to show cause on that date why Police Commissioner Bright should not be enjoined from enforcing the law has been issued by Justice Thomas Donnelly.

Representatives of taxi companies and others in the complaint charged that the new law is discriminatory in singling out taxicab drivers, while not forcing trolley cars to furnish similar bonds; that it singles out cities of the first class from cities of other classes in the state; and that the statute is really a criminal statute without a penal sanction.

Pending the hearing next Tuesday, thousands of drivers who have not procured bonds are exempted from arrest through a stipulation agreed upon today.

DEFEAT OF CLOTURE ON TARIFF BILL PREDICTED

Washington, July 6.—Defeat of the Republican motion for cloture on the administration tariff bill appeared to be virtually certain tonight on the eve of a vote on the issue, set for noon tomorrow.

Democratic leaders claimed and Republican leaders conceded that it would not be possible to obtain for the motion the two-thirds majority necessary to invoke the existing rule, which would limit debate on the bill and its amendments to one hour for each senator. Leaders on both sides were hopeful, however, that out of twenty-five would come a unanimous consent agreement for the limiting debate, at least on the less important items in the measure. Negotiations looking to such an amendment are under way.

CENSORSHIP APPLIES TO NEWS REELS, COURT RULES

Albany, July 6.—The state motion picture commission has the right to pass judgment on news reels of current events, according to a decision handed down tonight by the appellate division of the supreme court. The question was brought to the court by the Pathe film exchange for the purpose of determining the rights of the motion picture commission to censor and license news films as other films are inspected. All judges of the court concurred in the decision.

The incident that brought out the controversy was showing of a girl in scanty beach attire on the Atlantic City bathing beach. The commission insisted the picture was immoral and should be deleted. The decision tonight upholds that contention.

CAMBRIDGE HONORS TAFT.

Cambridge, England, July 6.—William Howard Taft added another title today to the long list of honors already acquired when Cambridge university conferred upon the chief justice the degree of L. D. The ceremony occurred in the ancient senate hall of the university.

The Duke of York, who sat with Mr. Taft, also received an L. D. The Earl of Balfour, chancellor of the university, was presented with an illuminated address on behalf of the university, lauding his services at the Washington conference and congratulating him on his elevation to the peerage.

SUBWAY TUNNEL TRAPS SCORES

Three Probably Will Die as Result of Accident 75 Feet

CROWD IN A FRENZY

Little Fire Extinguisher Blamed for Spreading Gas Fumes and Smoke Through Cars

New York, July 6.—Trapped in a dark subway tunnel, 75 feet below the street and reeking with gas fumes and smoke, nearly 600 men, women and children, passengers on an East Side train of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, today were converted into a frenzied, shrieking mob, almost a child of whose members were overcome. Three probably will die.

A worse spot for such an accident scarcely could have been picked than Lexington avenue, at 60th street, where the train came to its sudden halt. There is no express station between Grand Central Terminal, at 42d street and 58th street. The express tracks are three stories down beneath the local tube of the I. R. T.—and the crosswalk tunnel of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, and the only exits are narrow little spiral stairways at 53d, 58th and 63d streets. These were jammed with fugitives from the scene.

A little fire extinguisher—widely advertised as a checker of fires but whose contents, when turned on a tiny blaze in the motorman's control box, were held responsible for clouds of poisonous fumes and smoke sent swirling through the tunnel—was blamed by police and fire officials for the gravity of the disaster.

Scores Go to Hospitals.

More than 300 scores of those overcome were in so serious condition as to require hospital treatment, while the number who were treated on the streets and in emergency hospitals set up at the scene was placed at about 100.

The train—a ten-car Jerome avenue express, heavily loaded—was crashing along in a suburban way beneath Lexington Avenue shortly after 11 a. m. when passengers in the third coach were startled by an explosion which blew open the door of the driver's compartment.

Patrolman Fred Norman, who was riding in the car, seized a fire extinguisher from its rack and, as the train ground to a sudden halt, rushed to the compartment where the contents of the extinguisher on the spitting flames, which were eating the insulation from the control box wires. Instead of checking them, he declared, the extinguisher served only to spread them, and in a moment the car, and soon the entire tunnel, were choked with smoke and fumes.

Mayor Hylan, who drove up to the scene shortly after the first victims were removed to the hospital, attempted to fight his way into the 50th street subway station. He descended the steps to the first level, where he was met by a sweep of gas that sent him choking back to the street. He remained to see the work of removal, later going to his office to order an immediate investigation of the accident.

Besides the doctors who hastened to the scene in ambulances, many other physicians jumped into taxicabs, in many cases bringing their office nurses with them.

Bloomington's department store at 59th street and Lexington avenue promptly organized a fire brigade of 75 employees, who dashed into the subway to aid in the rescue work. The store's drug department was besieged for supplies and bandages.

Many firemen were overcome as they tried to descend the subway steps. When the rescue squad arrived, however, its members donned their gas masks and attacked the flames.

Notified of the seriousness of the accident, Frank Hedley, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, left the scene of the transit company for the scene. He was followed by the commission.

A man who kept his head when others lost theirs was the outstanding hero of the accident. He was Patrolman Norman of the Oak street station, who took charge of the men when it halted.

As clouds of smoke began to roll through the cars, he commanded the passengers to remain quiet. Then he directed the guards to open the door and began dragging half-conscious men and women from the train.

Then he, too, collapsed and had to be lifted to the streets. When he was revived he said he had detected smoke in the cars after the train had pulled out of Grand Central station.

Mayor Hylan as once picked out Patrolman Norman as the special hero of the occasion and ordered him taken to his home in the mayor's own automobile.

Another hero who suffered from smoke was fireman Joseph Ziegler who was passing 58th street when he heard the special alarm summoning engines and ambulances. He hastened to the scene and was one of those who assisted in carrying out the 35 passengers from Conductor Bradshaw's car.

Traffic in the East Side subway was soon blocked for far up near 125th street and trains were blocked below 59th street.

SHARKEY LOAFES AND JOHNNY DUNDEE WINS

Dundee Earns Decision in 15-Round Bout Marked by Sharkey's Laziness

New York, July 6.—Johnny Dundee earned the judges' decision over Jack Sharkey in a 15-round bout tonight. Dundee weighed 129 pounds and Sharkey 127. Sharkey loafed along with occasional rallies until the 14th. Dundee did the leading after a cautious first round but at times found it difficult to reach Sharkey, who often walked away with his back turned. During several rounds, Sharkey did little except cover up and with both hands Dundee peppered him continually.

After landing often in the second and third, Dundee shot a left to the head in opening the fourth that sent Sharkey to his knees for a short count.

Sharkey came out of his shell for a brief rally in the fifth and took an other lead in the seventh. Then Dundee drew blood from a cut over Sharkey's left eye.

Sharkey's unwillingness to mix it caused a chorus of boos from the crowd at the finish.

Skelly, pitching for Unadilla, allowed the home team but four hits, three of them made by H. Black, Niagara university star. The game was loosely played. ## PATRIOTIC CONCLAVE NEXT SEPTEMBER

Nine Organizations Will Assemble for National Encampment of G. A. R. in Des Moines.

Des Moines, Ia., July 4.—Patriotic groups throughout the country today began preparations for a great all-American convolve in Des Moines next September in which nine patriotic organizations will assemble for the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Today has been set by general executive committee of the encampment for the issuance of the general encampment call to every state in the union. The nine organizations represented in this call are: the Women's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans, Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, Ladies of the G. A. R., National Association of Union L. Prisoners of War, National Association of Victrola Veterans, Grand Army of the Republic and National Association of Army Nurses.

More than 75,000 of their members are expected to attend the gathering September 24 to 28. Invitations are also being sent today to headquarters of every patriotic body in America not officially allied with the G. A. R., urging that they be represented by special delegations to participate in the patriotic ceremonies to be enacted during the convolve.

The G. A. R. encampment this year will be of unusual significance, officials here said today. "This is to be one of the last great gatherings of the veterans of the Civil War and will be one of the last opportunities the younger allied organizations will have to learn the spirit of those old fighters," it was stated.

"We must make the spirit of the '60s live after the last surviving member of the Grand Army has passed," George E. Hamilton, secretary of the general executive committee said today. "More than 25,000 blue-coated veterans and their thirty five and drum corps will seek this time to make a lasting impression on patriotic Americans."

One of Edison's questions was: "Which is the most popular beverage in the world?" It would be Osego coffee if more people knew about it. advt 6t

HORAN, STAMFORD STAR TWIRLER PASSES TEN IN THREE INNINGS

Bridwell Clan Take Opening Game of Series With Utasayanthi Tribe, 10 to 4 After Five Innings of Wreck and Ruin Play and Four Innings of Prime Ball—Horan Again Today, 'Tis Said.

The Giants were advertised to play a baseball game with the Holy Cross ball team, wearing Stamford uniforms, yesterday afternoon at Neahwa park, but there was merely only four innings of the national sport, only five frames being consumed in a preliminary contest which resembled more duck on the rock than baseball. With the practice portion over, the two teams played ball that showed there was still the spark left. When the last man had been retired it was seen that Orono had corralled ten counters while their opponents had been able to find but eight, thus giving the home crowd the first game of the present series between these two strong clubs. If yesterday's game was a sample of the Delaware county aggregation's hitting stride, it is easily seen that there will be some heavy hitting done in a few games at least. Everything Snyder and later Scanlon, showed up for their ineptness for the first five innings, seemed to appear to them a delicacy which they harkoned off with as much relish as a Frenchman would a dish of snails. On the other hand, Horan had such poor control of the ball that he had passed ten men in the three and a third innings he was allowed to shove them up to the catcher. In the first inning, disregarding the fact of having two balls which were driven to the infield for outs, he put up sixteen consecutive pitches which were declared balls by the umpire. Three men walked on four straight shots. He walked four men in this round. In the fourth he started out as if to repeat, but was given the hook in favor of Carroll who tried to assume the strenuous duties of trying to stop the Giants.

One man on each side staged the very rare feat of stealing second with the ball in the pitcher's hand. Dority did it while Scanlon was ready to pitch, and Alexander got away with it just after the ball had been returned to the twirler.

The play which stands out above all others at this time is that of Dority in the fourth after he had made his unique steal. Carroll had driven the ball across the box to short. Somehow or other Farrell managed to get it stopped, too late to catch Carroll, but in time to make a neat peg to McCarthy for the out of Dority who was trying to make the plate, the coacher apparently being under the impression that the ball would not be fielded.

Leo Dugan was passed in the first, being sacrificed to second by Roach. Lynn Dugan fanned, but Dority found one to his liking and touched the onion for a triple to deep center, scoring Dugan. Carroll came across with a flailing ground across third to left which was sufficient to bring in Dority. Carroll flied second and Dority was passed, but Farrell was right under Martin's fly, finishing the hair.

The Oneonta bunch came right back and tied things. Reid got a double to center. Purcell and Thomas were passed, filling the baselines as full as a silver on a Sunday. Hermann's effort was a weak one, which Kopt got to the plate in plenty of time to get Reid, but still there was a man for each sack. Alexander was granted a free ticket, forcing in Purcell. Farrell's try was similar to Hermann's and again Kopt was able to get the runner at the plate. Still every canvas square was carrying its tonnage and when Bridwell was walked, another run was scored. McCarthy was out on a fly to Kopt. Two runs without a hit or an error to help out.

Ryan started the second with a single to left. Horan laid down a pretty bunt, Snyder electing to try for Ryan at second, missing on very close decision. Leo Dugan's out moved Ryan a notch, Horan remaining at first. Roach got a single between third and short into left, scoring Ryan and putting Horan on third. Then came Lynn Dugan with a double to left, coming in two tallies. Dority's fly out to Reid enabled Dugan to take third, but again Purcell got the third out.

Brick Snyder was chased to the showers when the third opened and Scanlon mounted the hill, holding the opposition scoreless through that frame. In the fourth they came across with another. Out of a single, a sacrifice out, a forceout and a slugger they built their sixth score, putting them four runs to the good.

But the Bridwells deemed it wise to get after Horan then and there and put across a quintette, which gave them a run and drew a pass. Thomas hit to Dority who spoiled an excellent opportunity to make a double killing by booting the ball. Hermann drew another free ticket, loading the bases to capacity. Alexander made the first out by fanning. Farrell was hit by a pitched ball, forcing in Flash. Then Bridwell drove the enlarged marble to center for a one base drive, putting in another run and leaving the bases full. At this point Horan was sent to right field and Carroll took his place, but about the first thing he did was to send a wild heave which found McCarthy, compelling Hermann to come in. Scanlon got a neat safe away, between first and second to right, causing two more runs to come in, putting the Giants one to the good. Reid fanned and Purcell was out on a fly.

Stamford, in her half of the fifth, tied things once more. Kopt was walked and got second on the only wild pitch by Scanlon. Martin sacrificed him to third whence he scored when Horan connected safely to right.

Then the home talent put the things so far above the reach of the visitors that they never caught up. By means of three hits, a pass, mixed with a couple of errors and a sacrifice thrown in for good measure three runs were rung up in Oneonta's half of the fifth.

This was the last of the scoring until the ninth, the teams settling down to play ball after dragging the first half out to two hours. In the last try, that Stamford was allowed they made a bid for a victory, but the best they could do was one run. Lynn Dugan was out on a fly. Dority got an infield hit. Carroll made the second out, Scanlon to Alexander. Dority going to second. Then Kopt hit to Farrell who lacked the thin part of a second of having time enough to get the runner at first. Meanwhile, Dority had rounded third and when he saw Boylan's hands go down down he dove for the plate, having come from second to home on an infield hit. Martin hit to Scanlon, who, having plenty of time, ran with the ball to first, taking no chances of making a wild heave or having the throw dropped.

This afternoon the Giants will play a return engagement with this same team at Stamford. Horan will start again today 'tis said.

VOLCANO IS ONE OF MANKIND'S FRIENDS

To Volcanoes We Are Indebted for Carbon Dioxide, Without Which Life Could Not Exist

Washington, July 3.—It might be a surprise to many to be told the first spitting, lava-spouting, earth-rocking volcano is one of mankind's best friends rather than his arch enemy, but such is the surprising declaration which was explained to the conference of geography of the National Educational association in Boston, July 3.

The most tremendous volcanic eruption of history, that of Mount Katmai in Alaska in 1912, will be described in this connection by Dr. Robert F. Griggs, leader of several parties sent to the scene of the cataclysm by the National Geographic society, and who discovered the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, Katmai's neighbor wonder of nature.

Mankind's debt to the volcano has been more fully recognized by results of recent researches, says a bulletin of the society describing the upheaval. Without volcanoes, it is now believed, there would be no ocean, and to volcanoes we are indebted for carbon dioxide, without which human life could not exist.

The explosion of Katmai, the conference was told, was unnoticed because it was so far from the centers of civilization. Had the eruption occurred near New York city, the bulletin declares, the sulphurous fumes would have polluted the air everywhere east of the Rock mountains, the noise would have reverberated like an artillery duel across the central states. The lower Hudson itself would have been turned into a gigantic steam bath.

However, due to the lack of population in that far region, there was no loss of life, and the eruption provides scientists and geographers now one of their greatest opportunities to study the phenomenon of volcanic action.

Though generally unaware of the eruption until long after, every inhabitant of the country, and almost of the world, felt its effects, one of which was the cold damp summer of 1912. This was caused by the interception of sunlight by the long-hanging dust cloud in the upper air. Even in cloudless Sahara, it was declared, the sky was overcast.

A succession of such mighty explosions could plunge the earth into another ice age, it is believed.

An area around Katmai, larger than the state of Delaware, was covered that summer by more than a foot of volcanic ash which was enough to destroy all but the hardiest of vegetation. When the explosion occurred two cubic miles of material were blown off the top of the mountain, and the present whereabouts of the mountain top is still a mystery to scientists.

The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, from which arise virtually millions of steam jets in a scene of unsurpassed awe and beauty, is believed to have been an aftermath of the cataclysm.

President Wilson turned aside from the stress of war to make the region a national monument second to none in the world. While the country is so remote that the few white men who have viewed its wonders have been members of the society's expeditions, the educators will be told, it is easily accessible from a sheltered bay christened in honor of the society, and a fifty mile roadway will someday place it within the compass of the automobile tourist.

THE FOURTH AT WESTFORD.

Independence Day fittingly celebrated in spite of rain.

Westford, July 6.—The Fourth of July dawned here rainy and cool, and plans for a community picnic in the woods were somewhat upset, but as the rain was of very short duration it was decided to go to the Presbyterian church lawn instead and a goodly number were assembled there by noon and a bountiful dinner enjoyed. Then all repaired to the ball ground where the married men played against the unmarried, resulting in victory for the latter in a score of 15 to 7.

In the evening the Methodist church was well filled and all enjoyed the community singing led by Rev. Mr. Duren of Schenectady, two piano solos, one by Miss Grace Harrington and the other by Miss Alice Skellie, and a duet by the Misses Harrington and Rippler. After the music Rev. Mr. Duren introduced the speaker of the evening, Floyd Harlow and O. L. Van Horn of Cooperstown, who were listened to with close attention and great appreciation. The thanks of all are extended to Rev. Mr. Duren and Messrs. Harlow and Van Horn, who contributed so much of their time and effort towards the success of the evening.

LABOR BOARD AUTHORITY.

When Samuel Gompers attacks the Railroad Labor board for undertaking to "outlaw" the striking railroad unions, he performs a useful service by calling attention to a defect of the present transportation law.

It is true, as Mr. Gompers argues, that that law does not forbid railroad strikes, and does not confer authority on the Labor board to forbid them. Its wage decisions have no legal compulsion behind them. Likewise, as interpreted by the government, it confers no authority on either the Labor board or the Interstate Commerce commission to make its decisions compulsory for the railroads themselves. Either the unions or carriers may be cited to give information, under penalty, but there is no penalty for refusal to accept decisions based on such information.

Taking advantage of this situation, some of the railroads have refused in the last year to act on instructions given by the Labor board, though all the railroads have accepted the rate changes ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Public opinion may or may not sanction this railroad strike but experience is proving that public opinion alone is not sufficient to enforce governmental intent that is not expressly written into the federal statutes.

It is hard to see how the attempted regulation of the railroads by the government is going to succeed until there is legislation conferring on such administrative bodies as the Labor board and Commerce commission full authority to put their rulings into effect, with the ultimate rights of railroad labor and capital safeguarded by the privilege of appealing to the courts when wages or rates appear confiscatory.

DUBLIN MELODRAMA.

"Magnificent melodrama" is what an American newspaper calls the insurrection and slaying of Rory O'Connor and his fellow-republicans in the Four Courts at Dublin. So it was. But it was also tragedy—and for the little groups of imitators of that spectacular feat, who are spread all over Ireland, it is pitiful tragedy.

There is little glory for them, alive or dead, in the eyes of the world. In their reckless and lawless guerrilla warfare against the constitutional government that is laboring to set up the Irish Free State, they die mostly in silence and in secret, by ones and twos and threes. It is not war. It is futile and foolish killing and being killed.

Meanwhile most of the political leaders of this guerrilla fighting have smiled complacently, doing no fighting themselves but playing safe and dropping incendiary words of approval, and here and there in America there is still support for a cause that cannot bring any possible benefit to Ireland, but only woe.

WORK FOR GIRLS AND BOYS

What Junior Project Workers Are Doing in Otsego County.

Ralph Q. Smith, who is head of the Junior Project workers in Otsego county, announces that there are 1,210 such workers now enrolled, of whom 498 are boys and 712 girls. There are 1,083 in the school grades, 119 in high school and 8 not in school. The projects, which are varied, there being no less than fifteen altogether, are as follows:

Corn, 8; potato, 119; bean, 0; garden, 143; pig, 12; dairy cattle, 96; sheep, 15; poultry, 249; rabbit, 10; cow testing, 19; food preparation, 36; food preservation, 28; clothing, 468; peas, 1; farm accounting, 2.

The above report was compiled June 30 and includes all enrollments for this year.

To be of as much possible service to the 350 teachers in the 212 schools of the county in organizing Junior Project work, the county leader visited, since January, approximately 160 schools so as to explain the work and to check up on projects being carried on in those districts. In all, there are 144 districts having 1,210 boys and girls enrolled and carrying on Junior Project work. Of this number there are 529 girls in Home Making projects and 681 boys and girls in agricultural projects. Enrollments were largely received through the schools. Other than conferences meeting teachers and pupils at schools, etc., each teacher was provided with specific information as to securing enrollments and the requirements for all projects.

To develop local leadership in the community and to carry on the work with the boys and girls there are 185 local leaders and assistant leaders including school leaders. Other than officers of organized clubs, consisting of president, vice-president and secretary, there are 29 leaders for the Home Making work and 86 for the Agricultural projects. This is splendid but even greater assistance is needed to satisfactorily develop each phase of the work locally.

It is planned for this fall to definitely organize all groups taking up work as we now have with the clothing project. By this means club work will be carried on more effectively and serve the many communities in the county to better advantage.

In Sight of Three Millions.

Attention is called to the condensed report of the Second National bank of Cooperstown, which appears in another column. With approximately two and a half millions of deposits and total assets of $2,926,000, the bank stands among the most substantial financial institutions of Central New York.

THE PRESS AND THE PEOPLE

Sins Honored.

Admiral William S. Sims continues to have bestowed upon him university and college degrees in every quarter. These include Yale, Harvard, Tufts, Juniata, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Williams, Union, Stevens Institute and Cambridge (England). Indeed, our great admiral in command of the destroyer forces in the war zone has had bestowed upon him all manner of distinguished appreciation. His most recent honor being a degree from Union college, where he was made a doctor of laws and an honorary chancellor. [Harrisburg Telegraph.]

Faithful Women Teachers.

With the closing of the schools for the summer it is a pleasure to note how often, in so many different places in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, faithful service on the part of women teachers continuing over a period of many years has been recognized in some fitting public manner. In New York the other day a luncheon was given in honor of Miss Kate M. Stephens, who had completed 50 years as a teacher in the public schools. [Philadelphia Record.]

The Census in 3,500 B. C.

While priding ourselves upon our census system it may be well to remember that census taking is no new thing. The first count of British heads took place in 1801, after long opposition based on superstition. The Romans looked upon it as a regular institution. But it was not until that Babylonians took a census before 3,500 B. C., which was perfected, and returns made by districts. In 2,300 B. C. fragments of the returns in the second dynasty of Ur are on tablets in the British museum. [Scientific American.]

Each Fight on Own Basis.

Much to much of wisdom, in making, has been expended on the North Dakota election. There is no logical connection of it with the result of the primaries in Indiana or Pennsylvania, or even Iowa. The Non-Partisan league had one senator. It is now to have two. That is about all there is to it. [New York Times.]

Requires Both Hands.

During the past eight years Uncle Sam has given to Europe's starving people food to the value of from four to five billion dollars. It is one case, of course, where it is impossible to keep the right hand from knowing what the left hand doeth. [Toledo Blade.]

One of The Unsung Great.

Within two years Paul Schmidt, a ticket taker on a Long Island railroad, has induced 50 men to join a co-operative savings and loan association and many of them have already bought homes through the help of the association.

And Schmidt isn't an agent or in any way a beneficiary through securing members. He does it just because he believes that it is a good thing for a man who is earning money to have some place where he is required, to make a regular and systematic deposit of some portion of his earnings. [Utica Observer Dispatch.]

What Should Be Done?

A mob took human life by wholesale in Illinois. The whole affair should be investigated thoroughly and blame fixed where it belongs. [Elmira Star-Gazette.]

Painting the Lily.

A peddler is charged with painting watermelons to make them look ripe. Congress had better hurry up and pass a law against painting the lily. [New York Evening Post.]

Not a Single Dime.

The Philadelphia mint didn't coin a single dime last year, and only a million or so nickels. Does the government expect high prices for the pennies it is now making? [Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

SCHINE INTERESTS GROWING

Purchase Theatres in Oswego and Norwich and Now Controls Both Houses in Lattin City and All But One in Oswego.

The Schine Theatrical corporation, which owns the Strand theatre in this city and is planning to build a theatre in the Oneonta hotel building, has purchased the Capitol theatre in Oswego and now controls all of the playhouses but one in that city. The latest acquisition was purchased from the New York Realty company for about $50,000 and was reopened under the new management on July 1. The show is first run through and will be redecorated throughout and at the same time kept in operation, work being done when the theatre is not open to the public.

The Orpheum theatre will be run by the Schine company as a popular piece family theatre and the Richardson theatre, after August 15, will become a vaudeville house with Keith attractions. It will be renovated and re-seated.

On July 1 the Schine company took over the Strand theatre in Norwich and now controls both playhouses in that city.

The opening session will be held on Tuesday evening, July 11, at which time General Secretary Edward P. Gates of the United society of Christian Endeavor will give an address. Mr. Gates is a speaker of some note, and his account of personal work and observations will be worth while. The leading address of the convention will be delivered the same evening by Rev. Francis E. As guests of the Bendle-Johnson company the delegates will be conveyed in special cars to Ideal Park where they will spend an afternoon of recreation and sports.

Thursday evening will witness the pageant, "The Light of the World" first presented at the World's Sunday school convention at Tokio, Japan. Preceding the pageant, Dr. Landrith will speak on "Youth in the World Today."

Friday morning there will be a special session for the benefit of preachers in connection with young people's work, led by A. J. Shartle, the treasurer and publication manager of the United society. Another conference will be devoted to union officers' problems. At 10:30 the annual business meeting will be held at which time the officers will be elected. Friday afternoon will be given over to denominational tables, followed at 5 o'clock by the alumni banquet. The two leading speakers of the evening will be Frederick A. Wallis and Rev. Bernard C. Clausen of the first Baptist church of Syracuse. At 9:30 the closing session of the convention will be held.

H. Woodward, Mrs. Leon Darling, Newton Darling and Anna Darling, from the First Presbyterian church, Catherine Gallagher. ## CROSS-BRED TOMATOES LARGER Greater Size and Vigor Secured in First Generation—Commercial Possibilities.

Geneva, July 6. — Careful studies of the effect of crossing different varieties and strains of tomatoes have convinced experts at the experiment station here that the crossing of tomatoes is a sound commercial proposition and that the farmer, as well as the seedsmen, can profitably raise hybrid seed. Plants grown from seed secured in this way were more productive and vigorous and were larger than the parent varieties. However, the improvement decreased materially with each succeeding generation so that it is not wise to use seed from the hybrid fruit itself. On the other hand, it is well established that tomato seed germinates freely for three years or more so that a good supply of seed from some cross that has proved its worth may be disposed of at a good price over a period of years, thus offsetting, to some extent, the time and care required to produce the seed.

Peculiarities Encountered.

"The tomato, like all other plants," say the experts, "shows certain definite reactions to cross pollination; and if the plant breeder is familiar with these reactions, he can govern, to a large extent, the color, size and shape of the hybrid. Only high yielding parents should be selected for crossing. It is now known that dark red color is dominant over pink and yellow. In order to secure red fruit, therefore, one parent must be red while the other may be red, pink or yellow. To obtain a pink tomato one parent must be pink and the other either pink or yellow, while to obtain a yellow fruit both parents must be yellow. Large fruits should be crossed to obtain large fruit, and small fruits to obtain small fruit. A cross between large and small-fruited parents will give fruit of intermediate size, so that only those varieties should be used which conform rather closely to the desired shape. Earliness is slightly increased by crossing, but to obtain marked differences early maturing varieties or strains must be used. In striving to secure an early hybrid care must be exercised that no undesirable characters are not introduced which may offset any gain in earliness. "The best results of crossing can probably be obtained by keeping within a species and crossing the distinct varieties and strains. For the insurance of securing a desirable commercial tomato, one must keep in mind the inheritance of such qualities as smoothness, color, size, shape and earliness. Crosses which give an early smooth, red fruit are Earlhart by Stone and June Pink by Stone, the varieties being used interchangeably as male and female parents without affecting the results."

Mr. Birdsall Improving.

Amasa J. Birdsall of 10 Valleyview street is still confined to his bed as the result of an accident which occurred about six weeks ago. Mr. Birdsall, who is a foreman in the bridge department on the D. & H., was terribly burned by an electric wire at Cobleskill the last of May. He is doing as well as can be expected under the efficient care of Dr. Cutler.

LOCAL MENTION

—Oneonta will play Stamford at the Catskill mountain village this afternoon and doubtless a number of local fans will make the trip to support Bridwell's athletes. Yesterday's game brought interest in the series between the ancient rivals to a fever heat.

—Believing that it is a good advertisement for the city, the Oneonta Automobile club have secured an "Oneonta" name plate for every member of the club. Please call at the Chamber of Commerce, or at your secretary's office, and receive one of these plates free of extra charge. Let us keep the name of Oneonta before the public as much as possible.

WANTS SIX TRACKS AT CROSSING.

D. & H. Company Asks for Viable Over Increased Trackage.

The following announcement has been made at Albany:
The Delaware & Hudson railroad has asked the Public Service commission to amend its order, dated June 2, 1922, directing the elimination of the Schenectady-Schenectady grade crossing of its tracks so as to permit the proposed overhead structure to pass over six tracks in place of three tracks, as at present planned. The company is to bear the additional expense.

The company is trying to reduce the heavy grade at the Schenectady-Schenectady county line highway and it considers necessary the construction of an overhead crossing over six tracks instead of three as now.

This refers to the bridge over the crossing about half a mile east of East Worcester village. It will cause some surprise that the company is thinking of six tracks at that point and would indicate that passing sidings are contemplated or that an increased volume of business is anticipated. No one could be found last night who could speak with authority upon the subject.

ANSWER TO D. & H. ULTIMATUM

STRIKERS DECLARE COMPANY HAS NO RIGHT TO CANCEL SENIORITY AND PENSION PRIVILEGES.

Railroad Labor Board Must Settle All Such Problems, Statement Issued at Local Strike Headquarters Last Evening Asserts; Railroad Officials Profound Confidence in Ability to "Carry On" Despite Walk-out.

That the D. & H. company has no jurisdiction in regard to the loss of seniority rights and pension privileges of striking members of the Federated Shop crafts and that such matters must be decided by the Railroad Labor board, is claimed by the shopmen in a statement issued from strike headquarters last evening by the executive committee of the local unions. This statement, made in answer to the ultimatum issued Wednesday by the company officials to the effect that strikers not returning to work Monday next will lose their pension and seniority rights, follows in full: "We wish to take this means of calling to the attention of all men who have suspended work on the D. & H. railroad and also to the public to the ultimatum issued by the D. & H. Railroad company relative to the position in which those men will find themselves after Monday, July 10, in regard to pension and seniority rights, etc., who do not report for work at said time.

"It must be plain to all intelligent people who read the daily press that this condition is a matter which shall be decided by the Labor board as all will agree that the railway executives have already taken the stand of forcing the press that they have nothing to do with the present situation as the same is brought about by decisions of the Labor board and same must be settled by the decisions of this board. The public in particular will note the change in the attitude of the above board, as expressed in the press in the last two days, which now openly declares to the public that we are not outlaws and have not placed ourselves outside the pale of government sympathy.

"The Federated Shop crafts at their meeting in Albany on July 5 reported that the men were standing firm and that the tieup is 100 per cent." The shop men feel encouraged by developments during the past few days and are of the opinion that an amicable settlement will be reached by Chairman Hooper of the Labor board and President Jewell of their federation within a short time. They state that their principal grievance is the farming out of shop work and that they are of the opinion that the roads will do away with this practice. The D. & H. has never named out its work, they state, and few of them have feeling against the company.

From the standpoint of the company, things are progressing nicely, officials declare. A car carrying 47 men, mostly car repairmen, came in last evening. Officials admit that all of the men they have imported are not skilled mechanics and repairmen but claim that they are capable of doing the work required of them and that necessary repairs to locomotives and cars are being made without hindrance to train schedules.

That several of the strikers are willing to return to work is claimed by officials. Two gang foremen reported for duty at Binghamton yesterday and were given back their jobs after they had promised to be loyal to the company in the future. Master Mechanic Donellan declared last evening that one foreman, five machinists and several car repairmen had applied for their jobs in the local shops yesterday but had been refused because of their age. Mr. Donellan regretted that he had to refuse them but orders from his superiors left him no alternative. It was contended that these men had been carried on the company's rolls for some time, although they were not able to do a full day's work, because they were near the pension age and that their action in striking had lost them whatever standing they possessed with the company.

Three more D. & H. locomotives passed through the city yesterday on their way to Schenectady for heavy repairs in the American Locomotive company's shops there.

Presentation to Mrs. Weishardt.

Last evening a very enjoyable social was held by the members of the W. O. M. L. at the home of Legionnaire Larson on Lawn avenue, at which there was a good attendance. Music and cards were the principal entertaining features and later ice cream and cake were served by the committee. Thomas Jones made the presentation speech in behalf of the gathering and Recorder Weishardt responded, both speaking in a happy and pleasing vein.

COVERED DISH LUNCHEON.

Followed by Young People's Program at First Presbyterian Church.

The covered dish luncheon held by the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon, was largely attended. A most delicious luncheon was served at 5:30 o'clock, after which a very entertaining program was given under the direction of Miss Thelma Townsend. Miss Townsend, who is a graduate of the Leland Powers school of Expression and is an instructor in Kent school in Summit, N. J., gave a humorous but also appropriate reading entitled, "Her Morning Mail." Responding to an encore, she recited a poem, "Why the Rose is Red." Miss Townsend has much ability along these lines. Assisting here were Miss Elizabeth Brownell, who is a student at Vassar, who gave a very interesting talk on "A Visit to a Chinese Home." The Chinese hostess of Miss Brownell was herself a Vassar woman and a personal friend. Miss Harriet Wilson, a student of the Russell Sage college at Troy, charmingly read Leigh Hunt's no less charming poem, "Abou Ben Adhem." Little Eloise McKee sang a dainty solo and responded to an encore; and Miss Cecil Cook rendered two charming piano solos.

The whole program was much enjoyed and the society gave the young people a rising vote of thanks.

HORN SUCCEEDS MERRITT.

As President of the Oneonta Manufacturers Association.

A. C. Mr. Merritt, who leaves Saturday as superintendent of the Riverside Manufacturing company to start a retail store in Delhi, was presented with a fountain pen by members of the association as a slight token of their esteem and appreciation for the valuable service he has rendered the association and the city's manufacturing interests during his terms of president.

William Horn, manager of the Quality Silk Mills, was elected president to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Merritt. The resignation of William H. Bedford as treasurer, who has been promoted from local superintendent of the Ballston Knit Glove company to superintendent of the main plant at Ballston Spa, was likewise accepted at the meeting. Other business transacted included the adoption of a revised constitution and by-laws.

Slight Accident on South Side.

Buick touring car driven by Harry Bouton of this city and a Ford machine containing a load of Italians came together on a curve between the farms of Lee Gosner and Wilson Coe on South Side about two miles from Oneonta last evening. The Buick had the running board torn off, a fender bent and both hub caps on one side smashed. The Ford was not seriously damaged. Bouton claims the Ford was on the wrong side of the road and was going at high speed.

ZONING BALLOTS DISTRIBUTED

Herbert C. Getman, Mayor C. C. Miller and Leslie Gardner Named as Directors of Chamber to Fill Vacancies Caused by Resignations.

Resignations of three directors of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce were accepted yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors. M. V. Beckstedt retiring because of transfer to New York city and F. H. Marx and E. W. Elmdore because of pressure of business duties and other community interests. Herbert C. Getman, Mayor Clarence C. Miller and Leslie Gardner were elected as directors to fill the vacancies for the remainder of the year, the three chosen being the next ranking nominees in the last directors' election made by the membership last February.

Endorsement of the invitation of the local Odd Fellows to the state order to hold the Grand Encampment in Oneonta next summer on the three days following the Grand Encampment, which will likewise be conducted here, was voted by the chamber's directors following an explanation of the plans for entertainment given by Earl Edwards. More than 2,500 Odd Fellows are expected to attend this gathering.

Interest in the referendum on zoning now being taken of the membership of the chamber of commerce was plainly manifested by the first day's return of ballots, more than 60 votes having been received by mail last evening, although the ballots were not received until yesterday morning.

The referendum continues until next Tuesday evening, and the first day's poll indicates that the vote cast will be one of the largest in any of the Chamber's referendums or elections. The question being voted upon is: "Do you favor the adoption of Zoning Ordinances for the city of Oneonta?"

After the consensus of opinion of the chamber of commerce membership regarding the adoption of Zoning Ordinances is obtained from the referendum, the matter will be referred to the common council for their consideration as a fair evidence of the sentiment of citizens in the matter.

It is understood that Mr. Hull has resigned his position as engineer with the D. & H. company and will follow farming. Mr. Friery has no plans perfected, but expects to remain in the city.

FUNERAL OF MARVIN H. SMITH.

Impressive Private Service at Home on South Side Yesterday.

Funeral services for the late Marvin H. Smith, who died Tuesday morning at his home on South Side, were held yesterday afternoon at the family residence. The services were private, the only attendants being members of the immediate family and a few other relatives. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which the deceased was a consistent member. Dr. Farley read suitable scripture selections, and in a brief address referred to the work and worth of the deceased, and his Christian character, closing with fitting words of consolation to the family of the departed.

There were many fine floral tributes, including besides those from individuals, appropriate pieces from the First Baptist Sunday school, the officers and teachers of the primary department of the Sunday school, and from the immediate neighbors, the latter being a beautiful floral spray. Burial was in the family plot at Glenwood, the bearers being Justin B. Ford M. and Virgil E. Smith and Milton Whitney, the three sons and one son-in-law of the deceased.

The relatives present from out of the city were Mrs. Melvin Hix of Flushing, L. I., a sister of the deceased; Gilbert E. Smith of Worcester, a brother; Payne Smith, Ray Gallup and wife and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dykeman, also of Worcester; Miss Blanche Smith of East Worcester, A. H. Smith of Stamford and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. ## THE FOURTH AT LAURENS

AN OLD TIME CELEBRATION WITH FUSILLERS, HORSE RACES AND BALL GAMES.

Addresses Delivered by Lincoln L. Kellogg and Hon. George L. Boeckes. Greatly Enjoyed—Athletic Events and Baby Contest Prove Interesting Features.

Laurens celebrated the Glorious Fourth in the old-fashioned way and the large throng that attended estimated at between 1,400 and 1,500 people, found keenest enjoyment in the events, the day proving that a rural village can still observe the holiday and afford its townfolk as well as those of neighboring towns and villages a good time without large outlays either for fireworks or other costly features.

In the morning there was a ball game between Garrettsville and Laurens, the former winning by the score of 16 to 12. The game was followed by a horse race, the speedway being from the old factory grounds to the Windsor corner. The race was spitted out, it being limited to local horses and those without a record. Frank Carr won first prize, Daniel Pashley, second, and Kearney Ansile third. These were the amusement features of the morning.

At noon excellent chicken pie dinners were served in the Methodist and Presbyterian churches and were well patronized, goodly sums being realized by both societies.

Following the dinner the exercises were held. Music was furnished by an improvised band, local musicians being assisted by others from away and the 12 pieces provided good music. Franklin C. Keyes, esq., was president of the day and introduced the speakers, Attorney Lincoln L. Kellogg of Oneonta, made a stirring address which was well received and has been complimented by all who heard it. He appealed for a staunch Americanism and discussed expansion with some reference to existing conditions in industrial and social realms. Hon. George L. Boeckes of Oneonta, also made an address, giving a description of the development of the American flag and its significance and urging all to encourage loyalty to it and especially among the foreign born.

While the fusiller parade was not long nor elaborate, the features were all amusing and cleverly conceived. The first prize winner was an old barouche drawn by a pair—one a large horse and the second a small white mule, weighing about half as much as the horse. The first horse, clearly provoked, he so purred and its antics were quite amusing. It was designed by and the prize went to the Marjorie class of the Methodist church. The second prize went to the Junior league, the Wild Man of Borneo, in the person of Harry Broadwell, cared and wearing hides only being the subject. The Junior league won the third prize also.

The only decorated automobile entered for prize was that of Ida M. Elliott of Milford, who married and started in the first prize. There was also a baby contest, the prizes going as follows: First, Donald Brightman; second, Nelson Harrington; third, Kendall Hoke. The judges were Mrs. Abraham L. Kellogg and Mrs. Claude Smith, both of Oneonta.

The greased pig contest which it was thought would give considerable amusement, proved of short duration. The pig was greased and re-greased, and the seven contestants were required to wash their hands before starting in the contest. The contest field and was placed upon their hands. The pig had hardly gotten under motion, however, and gone not more than 12 or 15 feet when Kearney Ansile fastened to Mr. Pig and held him securely. In the wheelbarrow race, Levi Platt was first and Kearney Ansile second, while the potato race prizes went to Walter Elwell and Hugh Sutton, in the order named.

Late in the afternoon the Hartwick ball team admitted a crushing defeat to the Craftstown team, the score being 27 to 4, another feature that reminded one of olden times. The day was not marred in any way and all who attended had a good time.

Married at Richmondville.

A quiet wedding took place in the M. L. church of this village at 6 a. m., Tuesday morning, when Mrs. Ella Nichols Taber was united in marriage to Arthur Wade, of Worcester, by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Stevenson, pastor of the church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Nichols, and a very popular woman with all the people here. The groom is a successful business man of Worcester, where he is regarded as a substantial citizen of influence and excellent reputation. Only a few immediate relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony. The happy couple left by auto at once for a pleasure trip.—[Richmondville Phoenix.]

Married at Worcester.

A very quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodell last Friday evening when Smith L. Muller of East Orange, N. J., was united in marriage to Mrs. Maxine Wharton Van Huzen. Only a few of the immediate friends of the couple were present. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Muller left for Lake George and other points in the Adirondacks, on a short trip. They will be at home at East Orange, N. J., after September 1st. Both Mr. and Mrs. Muller are former residents of this village and have many friends who extend congratulations.—[Worcester Times.]

AID FOR DEPENDENTS

Relatives of Disabled Veterans in Hospitals to Benefit From State Relief Fund—Conditions Outlined.

John A. Sitts of this city, deputy commissioner of the New York Veterans' Relief commission, which is distributing the appropriation made several months ago by the state legislature for the relief of needy disabled World war veterans, has received notice from the adjutant general that in cases where the disabled veteran is in a hospital and is being maintained at other than his own expense it is permissible for deputy commissioners to extend some aid to his dependents. In the past only the veteran was entitled to aid from this source.

The following procedure had been outlined to take care of the new class of cases:

1. If the veteran is a patient in a hospital outside of New York state no aid can be granted to him or his dependents.

2. If the veteran is a patient in this state in a hospital in the same assembly district in which his dependents reside, the deputy commissioner of the district in which the hospital is located has full authority to act.

3. If the veteran is a patient in a New York state hospital in a different assembly district from that in which his dependents reside, the deputy commissioner in the district in which the hospital is located has jurisdiction.

Only the mother, wife or children of the veteran shall be considered as dependents of a veteran maintained in a hospital at other than his own expense.

5. In no case shall more than $15 per month be granted to the dependents of any such veteran.

6. Any money granted to dependents shall be paid directly to them but the veteran must sign a receipt therefor.

7. The petition for relief must be made by the veteran in the usual manner.

8. In case the veteran is in a hospital in a different assembly district from that in which his dependents reside the dependents can apply to the deputy commissioner in their district to help them secure aid. He will investigate and report to the deputy commissioner of the district in which the hospital is located for his action.

Pearsons Home From England.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson, daughter, Grace, and son, Carl, have returned to their home at 57 West street after a two months' sojourn in England. During their stay overseas they visited Ashford, Folkestone, Dover, London and other cities. London being Mrs. Pearson's old home town and Ashford that of Mr. Pearson.

The countryside in England, Mr. Pearson says, was at its best with flowers, hedges and pretty gardens, which were reminders of childhood days. He reports that labor conditions are somewhat unsettled there as well as here. Their ship was the Orduin, and Mrs. Pearson was its oldest sailor, being 78 years old.

The many friends of the family are glad to welcome them back again to Oneonta.
